SUBJECT No. 24.

(a) A Mohatarfa Regulation.
(b) Proceeds under mohatarfa to be credited to District Funds.

Messrs. C. Vamana Rao and N. Subba Rao, Nagar Taluk.

Summary of discussion.—(a) The mohatarfa tax is not uniform in all places. It is very necessary to regulate it so as to suit the convenience of the tax-payers. A Mohatarfa Regulation may therefore be introduced early.

(b) As the income derived under District Funds does not suffice even for the works to be immediately attended to, and as the execution of several works is consequently delayed, a provision should be made in the Mohatarfa Regulation for crediting the income under mohatarfa to the District Funds; and pending the introduction of the Regulation, orders may be passed to transfer the income under mohatarfa to the District Funds.

Reply of Government.—Legislation is under consideration.

JUDICIAL.

(Nos. 27 to 62.)

SUBJECT No. 27.

Divesting Amildars of magisterial powers.

Messrs. S. R. Balakrishna Rao, Shimoga Municipality; K. Shankaranarayana Rao, Nagar Sabha; M. Venkatakrishniah, Madappa and N. Srikantiah, Mysore City Municipality; B. Narasinga Rao, Seringapatam Municipality; and C. Srinivasa Rao, Chikmagalur Taluk.

Summary of discussion.—Our Amildars have more multifarious duties than the British Indian Tahsildars and also exercise police powers. If they are relieved of their magisterial powers, they can devote greater attention to their executive work. As it is, either the one or the other suffers. Further a judiciary quite independent of the executive is desirable. Special Magistrates may therefore be appointed for groups of two or three taluks and they may be made to hold their courts alternately in each of the taluk head-quarters. They may also be made Inspectors of Registration, and, if convenient, may be given civil jurisdiction where Munsiffs' courts exercise jurisdiction over very large areas, to avoid litigants having travel long distances to attend the courts. As at present, there are a large number of law graduates with practical experience at the bar, such posts may be thrown open to capable young men of merit from among them.

NOTE.—The Dewan wished to know the views of ryots and land-holders and invited members of these classes to speak.
